DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim 5, drawn to a process for centrifugal distribution of liquid physiological specimens over a surface having a drain end.

Group II, claims 6-8, drawn to a process for centrifugal distribution of liquid physiological specimens over a surface using a re-circulation method.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I is directed to a process for centrifugal distribution of liquid physiological specimens over a surface with an array of assays, where the special technical feature includes the use of a substrate surface having a drain end and whereby drops are forced over the edge of the drain end. Group II is directed to a process for centrifugal distribution of liquid physiological specimens over a surface with an array of assays, where the thin film is re-circulated across the array of assays, thus there is no drain end. The common subject matter of Groups I and II is the centrifugal distribution of liquid physiological specimens over a surface with an array of assays, however this subject matter is already known and thus not a technical feature that defines a contribution over the prior art; for this common feature, there is a lack of unity of invention a posteriori. See MPEP 1850. The prior art of Zeya (US 4,468,410 - see Figure 15) and Chondroudis et al. (US 2003/0224105 -- see abstract and paragraph 0052) are cited to demonstrate the prior art related to centrifugal distribution of liquid physiological specimens.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Kirsten C. Jolley whose telephone number is 571-272-1421. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Tuesday and Friday.
